Tetrosyl

Originally, car care was time consuming and often performed with a wax or polish and was therefore reserved to the chosen few who could put aside a Sunday to care for their prized possession.

Today, car care is seen as a much simpler affair, with waxes and polishes now largely a thing of the past, thanks to modern inventions like snow foams and shampoos. These products aim to remove dirt and contaminants from vehicles, while also preserving paintwork using a complex blend of formulated additives to protect the car and offer a waxed look without the need for waxing.

Our Story

What began as an industry changing idea by our founder Clifford Schofield has formed over 6 decades of car care knowhow and expertise. From the first glass bottles of T-Cut and Bodyfiller produced in Prestwich, to the modern Demon, Wonder Wheels, and Triplewax ranges, our products have always held the same passion of being manufactured in the UK, in the heart of Lancashire. During this time, we have witnessed the change from the old fashioned single pack solvent-based coatings to the waterborne technology in coatings, xirallc and metallic composite acrylic paints of today's vehicles, and therefore, our products and ways of working have had to mould too.

This ethos of innovation and product design has led to CarPlan becoming one of the most recognised car care brands in the UK, and this has been commended in the Auto Express product awards. CarPlan Tyre Slik is now a 16-time award winner and Wonder Wheels Super Alloy Cleaner is a 14-time winner; - no other products have won more awards in the history of Auto Express.

We're always looking out for ways to improve the protection and cleaning capabilities of modern car care products. We bring innovation to our products by using the latest developments in materials science, coupled with our own facilities, testing methods and market knowledge, we are masters of our art & destiny. Recent patented technology such as our integrated gun on our Demon Foam and Demon Shine products and CarPlan No.1 Super Gloss, a 10-minute treatment that lasts for up to 12 months, show our innovation in the sector.

Tetrosyl is unique in the market – we have our own automotive paints division, so we are fully familiar with automotive coatings, colour basecoats, lacquer and clearcoat developments, compounds and glaze products. We know about them because we formulate them! Because of this detailed knowledge, and familiarity with the customers and the market, coupled with our strong connections with materials suppliers, we are able to make use of the best raw materials available from around the world and formulate them into the best formulations available. We have partner relationships with a number of key global producers who supply us with these new materials and advancements so that the latest ideas are worked upon and brought to market. To develop these ideas quickly and turn them into new products for the marketplace is certainly a challenge, but also it is essential to do this. To stand still is to go backwards.

This forward-thinking attitude and market leading ability is a result of over 60 years of work within the market. Everything from our products to the bottles, cans and tubes they sit in are all custom created and unique. We were the first to integrate a cleaning brush into an aerosol can for use in the automotive industry, the first easy shine car wax, and the first 2 in 1 car wax and colour restorer. This commitment to innovation ensures CarPlan remains the most recognised car care brand in the UK as well as a strong presence in over 100 countries.

As well as basic performance testing, effectiveness, gloss, and durability, we can also test quantifiably the performance of our formulations in our new Technical Development Centre. Expertly equipped and staffed, we have what we need in house. If further scientific disciplines are required we engage the help of our partners in industry or academia.

Our state of the art production facility ensures the highest of quality control and as all our products are designed, manufactured and distributed in the UK, all aspects of production are kept in house.

Our production facility includes high speed lines and can produce all valeting products under the CarPlan umbrella.

Our distribution centre features almost 45,000 pallet spaces in 275,000 sq. ft. of floor space, with single pick, bulk, and case operations so products can be transported to national and international customers quickly, safely and efficiently.

Products can be delivered next day to national customers and this ensures products are quickly turned around.

These technical skills and knowledge, coupled with our skilled marketing eye, helps us bring to you the products YOU want, not the products a supplier thinks you need.

ISO 9001

This is an international standard that specifies the requirements for a quality management system. Tetrosyl uses this standard to control all its manufacturing activity. With a comprehensive quality management system in place you can be assured anything produced in our facilities will meet consistent high standards.
